Marrick Completes SBA's Emerging 200 Business Program

DENVER, CO—(December 2009) Marrick Medical, the healthcare industry leader in the funding and management of accident and third party liability claims, has completed the Denver Small Business Administration's Emerging 200 Business Program ("e200"). The e200 program focuses solely on established urban small businesses that are ready and able to grow. The program provides entrepreneurs with access to managerial knowledge, business know-how, new markets, and new financial resources.

Marrick's President, Naul Manthe, led Marrick's participation in the intensive nine month executive level development program.

"Marrick was delighted to be one of the few selected businesses to participate in Denver's e200 program with other key Colorado business leaders. The program has helped us identify key drivers to business growth, good management, ethical conduct and employee development. With the foundation of the e200 program, Marrick will be able to serve and grow in Colorado for years to come." Said Naul Manthe, President of Marrick Medical.

ABOUT SBA Emerging 200 (e200) Business Program

e200 is an executive level entrepreneurial development and training course that has helped numerous small business owners from 22 cities across the country grow their business since 2008. Results gathered from a recent survey of past e200 graduating classes show dramatic advances for these small businesses.
